

ATHEROSCLEROSIS: A time bomb ready to explode

(ex-Presidenza) Careggi Hospital Monday May 15 14:30-16:30

Guest Speakers

Dr. James Goldstein, Beaumont Hospital,
Author of the New England Journal article describing multiple culprit lesions causing an acute coronary syndrome

Dr. James Muller, Harvard University, Boston

With Drs. Stone and Tofler, he introduced the vulnerable plaque concept. Co-founder of International Physicians for Prevention of Nuclear War, winner of the 1985 Noble Peace Prize.

Dr J. Muller: 14:30 "Role of Physicians in Prevention of Nuclear War -- in the 1980s and Today"

Dr J. Muller: 15:00 "Nuclear war in the coronary arteries: The Vulnerable Plaque Concept",

Dr J Goldstein: 15:20 "The Hunt for Vulnerable Plaque: Potential Role of CT Angiography"

15:40: Practical applications of intracoronary imaging in the Cath Lab: IVUS (Carlotta Sorini Dini), OCT (Alessio Mattesini), NIRS (Carlo Di Mario)

16:10: Discussion

